This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf from an old book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and dark smudges, particularly along the right edge and bottom. A vertical crease is visible near the right edge, suggesting it was once part of a bound volume. There is no text or other markings on the page.

Hypnotism.
Hypnotism and Mesmerism are synonymous terms, the former taking its name from Dr. Franz Mesmer, who in 1773 advanced the theory that some individuals might be rendered temporarily unconscious by others, and the latter term was used by Mesmer of England,
who being an able observer of mesmerism, applied the term Braidism or hypnotism which in reality differs only slightly from mesmerism.
Dr. Mesmer claimed that this state was a species of animal magnetism and that the passage of powerful magnets over the surface of the body of some people would place them in a trance state. This is the original theory which bears the term mesmerism.
This art of placing one in the temporarily unconscious state was looked upon as a species of witchcraft and was absolutely forbidden by the French and German Governments. Commissioners were appointed by the French Government to investigate the matter, and Benjamin Franklin was one of them but it was not until 1840 that the subject received much attention. Before this time it was considered dangerous to the morals of the people. In later years it has been used by clairvoyants and quacks as a branch of the healing art.
It has been degraded and remains a comparatively unstudied subject. It is also claimed that it affords a much harm and produces disagreeable results
on nervous and excitable individuals.
Mesmerism can undoubtedly be induced and is a peculiar mental state, and is based on the predominance of one idea over all others. The mind is so absorbed and fixed on this one idea that the subject is removed by all outside influences.
The popular belief in the mesmerizer
and his exercise of power by the use of his will to produce various effects is somewhat erroneous. The individual must "give himself up" entirely, and simply be influenced afterwards by the mesmerizer. This is sometimes produced by fixing the attention on any small bright object held close to the face, in a few minutes the person will become very sleepy and the eye lids droop. It is also found there is a remarkable exaltation of one or more of the senses, so the person is ready to receive suggestions implied in the voice of the mesmerizer.
The person mesmerized presents a peculiar appearance; at first there is a restlessness, faintness and trembling, and turning upward of the eye balls, and then finally sleep. The susceptibility of individuals varies considerably, and there are only about one in twenty who may be so influenced, while others state the susceptibility of individuals to be a greater per cent.
Stories are often told of individuals who after looking fixedly at others will fall into a state of mesmeric sleep, and in them a form of mesmeric sleep.
The story is told of a man, who, sitting in a large audience, by looking at a lady caused her to fall asleep.
Every individual exerts an unconscious influence upon each other, is a known fact. Along this line comes the often suggested performance of the contagion of a gape. In all the conditions of mesmerism the directing power of the will is suspended, and the intellect is in a state of exalted excitement and reflex power of the cerebrum stimulated. The mind is in a condition to receive ideas from outside, suggestions through the senses or evolved by the inner consciousness of the individual.
The mind must be entirely given up to that which may be before it at the time.
This exerts an uncontrollable directing power over the actions, there being no antagonistic agency to keep it in check.

fore in driving the logs.
The friends of the venerable Mrs.
Ruth Gould, the mother of Congressman
Samuel W. Gould of Skowhegan quickly observed her 88th anniversary at the residence of her son, Mr. Charles I. Lewis. She is related to the entire community. In fact she is related by birth or marriage to one-tenth of the inhabitants of Hiram.
She is the last of ten children of Eli P.
and Ruth Clemens and granddaughters
of John and Abigail Clemens, who lived near Clemens pond, in October, 1870.
The farm still remains in the Clemens name and is well conducted by his great granddaughter, Ruth Clemens. Mrs.
Gould is the widow of Elias Gould who died May 6, 1910, aged 98.

Mrs. Alice Bunnell had charge of the guest book. Many beautiful gifts of silver, silver, cut glass and china were received.

Carter-King.
At the home of Mr. and Mrs. George
E. King, Wednesday afternoon, Oct.
25th, Ruth King was united in marriage to John W. Carter. The bride was beautifully gowned in white chiffon and carried bride roses. The house was prettily decorated with autumn foliage,
evergreen and carnations.
The ceremony was performed by Rev.
J. R. Little, the single ring service being used. Only the immediate families were present. The bride was the eldest of many presents. Mr. and Mrs.
Carter left on the afternoon train for a short wedding journey.
Alice Mason is spending some time at Melrose, Mass.
Frances Woodward of Togus, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ceylon Rowe.
Mr. and Mrs. Parley Andrews and party are spending two weeks at their

in a good deer, Wednesday from the Chapman Brook region.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ring of South
Paris are visiting Mrs. Ring's parents, the people of the people.
C. K. Fox and wife returned from the Lake region, where they have been for several days bringing with them a fine deer.
Chandler Goodwin and wife of Medford, Mass., have spent the past two weeks with his father, Mrs. Horatio Goodwin at the old home.

SAVED MANY FROM DEATH.
W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes
he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business.
"What I always like to do," he writes,
"is recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds,
hoarseness, obstinate coughs, a gripple,
croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well to-day because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe it's the best throat and

FEYERHUR.
Dunn-Eastman.
Edna Eastman, one of Fryeburg's most attractive daughters, was united in marriage to George Elliott Dunn of Boston on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 28, at the First Congregational church. The bride is the daughter of Tobias Eastman and Mrs. Adelia Walker Eastman.
She was graduated from Fryeburg Academy in the class of 1906, and spent the years 1907-8 in domestic science.
Mr. Dunn's native place is Thomaston.
He is a graduate of the Thomaston
high school, and of Rockland Business College. For eight years he has successfully filled a business position in Boston.
The old church, where for a century and a half the wedding ceremonies have been held, was beautifully fitted, ferns, garlands of evergreen and a wealth of yellow autumn leaves and chrysanthemums, arranged by Clara Page and Abby Ballard.
Charlotte Pike was the organist. At half past three the strains of the splendid march of Lohengrin, the bridal procession entered the church. The bride was escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage. Her sister, the matron of honor, Mrs. Reta Lord Thompson, preceded the bride, and following came the bridesmaids, Jessie Walker of Fryeburg and Mildred Walton
of Newtonville, and the ushers, James Eastman, Edwin Page of Fryeburg, Walter Haley and Frank Elliott of Boston. Before the altar, the bride groom, attend-by his best man, Clara Henry of Boston, awaited the bride-doom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. P. Wilson, pastor of the church, the double ring service being used.
Mendelssohn's wedding march was played as the bride party left the church. The bride was escorted in a simple elegant gown of white crepe de châle, with flowing veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.
She wore a single gem, a beautiful amethyst pendant, the gift of the bridegroom. The bride's gift to the matron of honor was a pair of gloves; to the bridesmaids, gold clasp pins with monograms.
The bridegroom's gift to his best man was an amethyst scarf pin, and to the ushers, gold tie clasps with monograms.
The matron of honor wore white messaline and carried yellow chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids wore white lingerie dresses over yellow with bouquets of white flowers and white crepe de châle. The bridegroom wore a blue suit. Many of the guests were dressed in white making a pretty picture against the deep green and sunshiny yellows of the decorations.
Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the residence of Mr. Eastman. Mr. Dunn and his bride received the guests, assisted by the matron of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Tobias Eastman and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Daniel.
Refreshments served by Marion Wilson of Portland, Eliza Wilson of Thomaston and Blanche Thoms of Fryeburg.

Fashionable Veils.
Already more veils are being worn by smartly dressed women. They are at present obscuring whatever style of veil suits their individual fancy.
Dotted veillings in simple and fancy meshes and the plain hexagons in a heavy mesh are very becoming types.
Lace veils are in every variation of the cobweb or shadow designs. Those in large patterns are much worn and are usually in the shadow mesh with a silk-run design in the form of a border, in scroll effect, or in a scattered all-over design.
The new purple and emerald green veillings are vivid and give dashiness to an otherwise somber hat. There is an advantage in this method of acquiring color for a hat. The veil can be removed at will; colored trimmings could not.
As veillings are getting back to the beautifying variety, and as the small hat worn off the face is a fashionable one this fall, and as such hats require veils to give them style, a close, tidy arrangement is necessary; for this only a small-mesh, smart, dotted veil is suitable. The all-black veil with a dainty mesh and tiny silk or velvet or chenille dot and the black dotted white veils are used with these hats.
Tinted veillings, in which there is a faint tracery in black, are among the complexion veillings in the shadow effects. One in flesh pink with intersecting hairlines and tiny shadow squares of black is a favorite. When worn, the black design shows very faintly and the soft pink of the groundwork blends in with the skin tints,
enhancing the latter appreciably.
Of these flesh-pink veils with dainty touchings of black here and there are seen.
Fillet meshes on which are wrought
large chantly foliage and floral designs are among the new veillings. On a large veil which holds a veil away from the face the style is a smart one.
Shetland or silk-finish veillings are the varieties which are most effectively used as drapes, owing to their soft, clinging qualities. Among the drapes with borders are those with a cobweb mesh, others with a bold round mesh,
and still others with a dainty fine mesh.
For auto and traveling wear there are the waterproof chiffon cloth veils,
which protect from rain, dust and wind.

Fryeburg House Burned.

A dwelling house being built by Henry Andrews on the corner of Oxford and Warren streets caught fire Sunday morning at 2 o'clock. The fire destroyed the oil and the roof of the main house. The walls and rooms throughout the building were almost ruined by fire, smoke and a deluge of water.

The oil was completely enveloped in flames when discovered by little Jennie Potter, who ran screaming up the street. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews were in the house, giving the alarm to the fire company.

The work of the Fryeburg fire company was very effective in preventing the spread of the fire.

The house was soon to be occupied by Mr. Andrews' brother, Dean Andrews of Danvers, Mass. The house was insured and will probably be rebuilt. Cause of fire unknown.

The Red Men.

Great Sachem of the Red Men, Arthur E. Cook of Lewiston, and Great Chief of Records, Ralph E. Bailey of Portland and others were making visits to various tribes in different sections.

Guy Eastman, who purchased H. S. E. Hutchins' farm last spring, has now a large and promising herd of Holsteins, mostly registered stock.

"Aunt Mary" familiarly called is recovering from her late accident, through the efficient care of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. E. L. Walker. Mrs. Abbie Waterhouse of Harbor is assisting Mrs. Walker.

EAST PARIS.

F. L. Cotton has sold his farm to a native of Finland.

Plenty of hunters and some of them "bang" every day, Sunday and all.

The cold snap of last week did not find anything to freeze but a few older apples and the pumpkins of some belated farmer.

Our roads are in a bad condition, the hills covered with loose stones, hollows on the flat places that hold water and mud, and many rough places where the water has washed on the dirt. Some people say automobiles are hard on the roads that the roads are hard on automobiles.

A big hole in a culvert at the foot of Cooper hill caused an accident last week. A woman driving down the hill met an auto just above it. She turned out and when she came back into the road her horse jumped over the hole and the forward wheel struck into it and broke the cross bar of her wagon. Your correspondent filled it up this Monday morning.

EAST OXFORD.

Mrs. Dexter S. White of Lisbon visited relatives in this place, Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Smith of Norway Lake visited her uncle, P. J. Billings, Thursday.

Voices Along the Way.

Lays from the Press.
California is the latest state to act by constitutional amendment (equal suffrage to women) and the inducement of this action on the part of one of the great states of the Union can but be far reaching. Not all the women who are thus endowed will use their endowment, but with California and Washington in the equal suffrage column, it is safe to estimate that not less than 250,000 women voters will cast ballots for a presidential candidate in 1912.
They will be a factor which national parties and national candidates cannot afford to ignore. The equal suffrage movement is one which does not go backward. Suffrage once granted is not taken away. The victory in California means other like victories in the near future.

The record of fatal shooting accidents in this country every year is a deplorable one, but so long as infants and idiots are allowed to play with firearms there can be little hope that the average will be kept within reasonable limits.

Nearly every town and city has considerable money invested in buildings for school purposes. In most towns these buildings can be used for local gatherings, but in the cities where a large proportion of the money is thus invested, there is practically no use of these expensive buildings except for strictly school purposes.

The state of Wisconsin has taken the lead in opening up her school house for the general use of the community, and the plan is working well. Lectures, entertainments, social gatherings, debating clubs, as well as religious meetings are freely held with the result that elderly people as well as the children derive benefit from these buildings.

The finance commission of Boston has considered this matter and recommended a moral general use of school buildings in that city. It will be interesting to watch how far the scheme will be carried, and its results, but it certainly appears to be a move in the right direction.

As the leaves fall from the trees brownish moth nests are becoming visible. Not many are apparent and there has been little trouble from this pest during the last year or two as the campaign vigorously waged against them, coupled perhaps with other causes has reduced the nuisance to a minimum. Nevertheless, they should be fought as long as there are any in sight.

The Post Office Department has announced that letters addressed "To Santa Claus" and forwarded to the dead letter office will not be distributed to charitable organizations, benevolent persons, poor children or others.

Four years ago postmasters were authorized to turn over such letters to charitable persons, but because of many abuses the order has never been renewed. Under the laws and regulations letters to Santa Claus are classed as "frivolous" and returned to the writers or destroyed.

Chas. H. McIntire went to his long home Friday, Oct. 23, at 5 a. m., aged 66 years. His brother Medbury of Lynn, Mass., came Friday night. He had not been in town for 25 years. Mr. McIntire's funeral was held Sunday at 11 a. m., attended by Rev. Mr. Clough of Brownfield.

WHAT I WENT THROUGH

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep at night. It was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—MRS. NATHAN B. GREATER, 51 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

LYNCHVILLE.
Silas McKee.

Died in Albany, Oct. 22, Silas McKee. Mr. McKee was born in the town of Stonham on Dec. 26, 1840, and lived there until about 1872, when he moved to Albany, which town has since been his home.

Mr. McKee was a veteran of the Civil War, belonging to Co. E, 1st Regiment of Maine Cavalry volunteers and was discharged in 1865, having served thirteen months. He was a member of Leper's Post No. 138 of Stonham. He was also a member of the Christian church.

In 1890 he married Mentah M. McAllister of Stonham, whose death occurred about eleven years ago.

He leaves seven children: Mrs. James Gough, Mrs. Asa Keniston, Mrs. Mary Cobb, Eugene McKee and Fred McKee, all of Albany; Everett McKee of Bethel, and Minnie, who has lived at home and cared for her father during his illness. Besides the children he leaves two brothers and three sisters, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren to mourn his loss.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Oct. 24, at his late home, Rev. W. B. Hague officiating. The members of the George M. Knight Relief Co. attended in a body. Among the floral tributes were several from the children of the deceased. He was laid to rest in the family lot in the East Stoneham cemetery.

The school in this district has closed for a week's vacation.

Elliot & Bartlett's spool mill is running only five days in a week.

Gertrude Cobb was called home to attend the funeral of her grandfather, Silas McKee.

LOCKE'S MILLS.
The Mt. Abram Hotel has been purchased by George Tuttle of Rumford.

The Sunday school held a social at the hall, Oct. 26th. The financial proceeds were fine.

Pearl Mason of Medford, Mass., is visiting his brother Herbert and other relatives for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Maxim are spending a few days with Mrs. Maxim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chabourne, of North Bridgton.

The household goods of Mrs. Fred Bubier were sold at auction, Wednesday, and she will return to Lewiston in a few days.

WEST LOVELL.
Mrs. Keyser of Chicago, who has been employed by John A. Fox for two months, has gone to Chatham, N. H., to work for Warren Emerson.

Earl, Merton and Annie Bell of Toll Bridge attended the Halloween entertainment, Saturday night, and spent Sunday with their brother, Leo Bell, and David Bell was at home in Fryburg in the meantime.

There was a supper and Halloween entertainment at the library hall, Saturday evening. The supper was gotten up by the people in attendance and the entertainment by the pupils of the West Lovell school under the supervision of Annie E. York, teacher. They showed a deal of training in preparation of their parts. A high point of the evening was amusement. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Nichols of Medford, Mass., who have been summer guests here for many years and have quite an interest in the school, were very helpful. Mr. Nichols decorated the pumpkins for the hall and Mrs. Nichols presented them with coffee and sugar for the supper and assisted greatly in making the fish pond a success besides assisting with preparing and decorating the hall for the evening's entertainment.

The Maine Pomological society will entertain at the hall, Nov. 14, 15, 16. Excursion rates on Maine Central and Grand Trunk.

If you want the contents of a sauce pan to boil quickly do not leave a spoon in it, as the spoon carries off a great deal of the heat.

OXFORD.
Grand Division Sons of Temperance.
The 68th annual session of the Grand Division of Sons of Temperance of Maine met on Wednesday with the Oxford Division No. 23. All the divisions in the state were represented.

Officers present were: G. W. P., W. P. Pratt, Portland; C. Scribner, Annie L. Hayes, Chelsea; G. Treas., G. J. Parrott, Oxford; G. Sent., H. S. Burgess, Portland; G. W. Patron, Mary McLean. Vacancies were filled: G. Chap., Dr. Orin Stevens, Oxford; G. Con. Sibbie Hancoc, Oxford; P. G. W. P. Patrick Hayes of Chelsea; Mary McLean.

The regular routine business was attended to in the morning session. A recess was taken at noon for dinner served in the hall by the ladies of the local order.

At the afternoon session four candidates were initiated and reports of various committees given.

The following officers were elected: G. W. P.—W. P. Pratt.
G. W. P.—Mary Frost.
G. Scribner—Annie L. Hayes.
G. Treas.—G. J. Parrott.
G. Con.—Sibbie Hancoc.
G. Chap.—Sibbie Hancoc.
G. Sent.—H. S. Burgess.
G. Patron—Mary McLean.

The installation ceremony was performed by Dept. Most Worthy, Patriarch Patrick Hayes.

A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the National division which will meet in Maine next July.

An entertainment was given in the evening which consisted of readings by Mrs. Baker of Portland and instrumental music by Alice Oliver of Canton and Floesia Eaton. A quartette composed of Geo. Jones, Perley French, Ida Stone and Charlotte Wardwell rendered two selections and solos, Lulu Stone accompanied. At the call of G. W. Pratt, speeches were made by Patrick Hayes, Rev. S. C. Eaton and George Hazen.

Refreshments of ice cream and crackers were served during a social that concluded the exercises.

NORTH LOVELL.
L. Mason went to Augusta last week. Mrs. Arthur Andrews is very sick at her home here.

L. E. McAllister has finished threshing for this year.

Mrs. Mary Hariman and daughter, Lottie are away visiting for a while. John McAllister of No. Lovell has visited relatives here the past week.

Mrs. Marshall Evans has gone to Lewiston, called there by the illness of her sister.

C. L. Wilson and wife went to Sweden, to visit his grandmother, Mrs. E. Richardson.

Mrs. Susie Gammon has visited her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Lawrence at North Fryburg.

Levi Butters and family of East Stoneham spent Saturday and Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Sophy McAllister.

Mr. and Mrs. E. McAllister dined with Mr. and Mrs. Perley McKee, Sunday, also M. A. Sargent of West Lovell was a guest there the same day.

Heart Failure.
Daniel French of Brownfield, an old soldier, died suddenly of organic heart disease, Wednesday afternoon. He and his wife were riding when suddenly he fell forward. As he did not answer when spoken to, she drove to the doctor's nearby but life was extinct when they reached him.

He leaves a widow and a daughter. Mr. French was about 70 years of age.

How to know good flour.
Some flour is very adulterated. You can find this out for yourself. Take a handful and squeeze it. If it goes into a lump it is good, because starch; but if it falls away it is poor.

L. S. Ingalls, who for some time has served in the capacity of postmaster at Sandy Creek, which is a fourth class office, has tendered his resignation to the department.

Free If It Fails.
Your Money Back if You are not Satisfied with the Medicine We Recommend.

We are so positive that our remedy will permanently relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine at our expense should it fail to produce satisfactory results.

It is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxative or emetic cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate, and weaken the bowels and tend to make constipation more chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous.

Constipation is caused by a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To get permanent relief you must therefore tone up and strengthen these organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall's Oedipal or our bromine medicine. They are exceedingly pleasant to take, being as candy, and are ideal for children, delicate persons, and old folks, as well as for the robust. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels.

They apparently have a neutral action on other associate organs or glands. They do not purge, cause excessive looseness, nor create any inconvenience whatever. They may be taken at any time, day or night. They will positively relieve chronic or habitual constipation, if not of surgical variety, and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, if not taken with regularity for a reasonable length of time. 12 tablets, 10 cents; 30 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Sold in Norway only at our store—The Rexall Store, R. P. Stone, 143 Main street Norway, Me.

CHICAGO MERCHANT MAKES STATEMENT.

After Spending Thousands of Dollars and Consulting the Most Eminent Physicians, He Was Desperate.

CHICAGO, ILLS.—Mr. J. G. Becker, of 134 Van Buren St., a well-known wholesale dry goods dealer, states as follows:

"I have had catarrh for more than thirty years. Have tried everything on earth and spent thousands of dollars for other medicines and with physicians, without getting any lasting relief, and can say to you that I have found Peruna the only remedy that has cured me permanently.

"Peruna has also cured my wife of catarrh. She always keeps it in the house for an attack of cold, which it invariably cures in a very short time."

Potato Crop Smaller.

The New England Homestead Estimates Total Yield in United States at 242,000,000 bushels.

The total crop of potatoes in the United States is placed at 262,000,000 bushels, against revised estimates covering the crop of 1910 of 311,000,000 bushels.

Total acreage devoted to potatoes in United States compares well with that of last year, the area being 3,394,000 acres against 3,323,000 in 1910. Shipments from Arrostook county began unusually early this year and by the first of October, 4,000,000 bushels had been shipped, or, roughly speaking, one-third of the crop of merchantable stock.

In the large potato-producing stock, such as Maine, the acreage this year was 123,000, against 117,000 in 1910; with Michigan 303,000, against 325,000; Wisconsin 249,000, against 250,000; Iowa 175,000, against 160,000; Minnesota 150,000, against 148,000; New York 105,000, against 125,000; Pennsylvania 310,000, against 300,000; Ohio 170,000, against 172,000; Nebraska 110,000, against 90,000; Kansas 90,000, against 87,000.

Twisted Thread.

Waxing the thread by running it over a bit of beeswax is the proper way to avoid this trouble, but wax sometimes discolors the thread slightly and is not always desirable on that account.

For either silk or cotton thread you can use the same as wax, a small piece can use the same soap that is perfectly dry. This makes the thread slip through the material very easily and absolutely prevents twisted knots.

Causes Much Disease.

Advice About Stomach Trouble and how to Relieve them.

Do not neglect indigestion which may lead to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent physician once said that ninety-five per cent. of all the ills of the human body have their origin in a disordered stomach.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be among the most dependable remedies known for the relief of indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing and healing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. They are rich in pepsin, one of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine. The relief they afford is very prompt. Their use with persistency and regularity for a short time tends to bring about a cessation of the pains caused by stomach disorder.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets help to insure healthy appetite, to aid digestion, and these promote nutrition. As evidence of our sincere faith in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give entire satisfaction, we will return you the money you paid us for them, without question or formality. They come in three sizes, prices 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store. The Rexall Store, F. P. Stone, 143 Main street, Norway, Me.

Drop a word of cheer and kindness—Just a flash, and it is gone. But there's half a hundred zippies circling on and on.

Oxford County Crops.

Stephen Abbott of Bethel writes thus for Oxford county for the Final Crop Reports in the Maine Farmer:

About the average quantity of hay was raised this year. Some fields were badly dried and were not mowed at all, while the intervals about meadows were heavy.

Not quite so much grain sown this year as common. But little threshing done yet. Yield lighter than common. Considerable field corn raised. Most fields were well along when the frost struck them. There has been poor dry weather. More sweet corn was raised than common and a lot of corn contracted for—wasn't taken by the packers, and the growers are feeling sore about it, and rightly.

Silos are common in this vicinity. The summer silo hasn't come into use as yet. Dent corn is mostly grown for the silo, although sweet corn fodder and some yellow corn are put in. Japanese millet is sown considerably.

Soiling crops are raised to some extent. Dent corn, Hungarian and Japanese millet are the crops grown for this purpose.

Not so many acres of potatoes as common were grown this year. Yield about an average. Condition at digging is good. Crop mostly stored. No potato houses in this vicinity. Price, 60 to 70 cents per bushel.

An average yield of apples, quality good. Don't think there was much spraying done. No new insects found. Fall leaf web worm with the codling moth have done the most noticeable injury. Brown-tails were well taken care of last winter. Buyers are hustling with seemingly undue haste for all the apples they can get hold of at $1.55. But it is hard to find out whether many growers have sold at that price.

There is not much change in the live stock situation, about the same amount being kept. There are but few pure bred herds. Although eggs are kept mostly for the dairy, the beef type seem to mostly prevail.

There are quite a number of colts being raised; about equal numbers of draft and driving. No mules raised. The most popular breeds of poultry at present seem to be Barred Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds, Wyandottes and Hens breeds. It has been a very successful season with some, and there are many who specialize for winter eggs. No turkey geese raised.

Grange stores and co-operative associations receive but little support. Individuals send carloads of potatoes at times.

BALKED AT COLD STEEL.

"I wouldn't let a doctor cut my foot off," said H. D. Ely, Bantam, Ohio, "although a horrible ulcer had been the plague of my life for four years. Instead of using Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my foot was soon completely cured." Heals Burns, Boils, Sores, Bruises, Eczema, Pimples, Corns, Sore Pile cure 25c at The Noyes Drug store. 44-47

The Egg-Eating Hen.

The egg-eating habit among hens seldom occurs when the fowls have free range.

Sometimes during the winter months when there are a large number of hens in a too small coop, the habit is formed by the breaking of eggs in the nest.

Often the nest boxes are too few, or so arranged that biddy must hop down upon the eggs when going on to lay, and breaks the eggs. In which case she is more than likely to eat them and so learns to like the taste and will pick open an egg on purpose now and then.

The habit is also formed through carelessness in throwing egg shells out at the back door, when cooking, where the hens pick them up.

When chicks are hatching, the shells should not be thrown carelessly about, but should be thrown immediately into the ash-box of the kitchen range and left until they are brittle and browned, then broken into small pieces.

They can then be thrown out in large piles of ashes where the hens can root and scratch in among them, and not know what the shells are. In this way they will do no harm and will make grit to form more eggs.

Not enough animal food will sometimes cause the egg-eating habit, or lack of food from not having enough nourishing food of any kind supplied. Underfed hens will get the habit of picking at anything.

Milk is a good food and will take the place of meat when the latter is not at hand.

Cherish hay and cooked vegetables and bran wet up with hot water. Oats and rye thrown into a good supply of chaff to keep them busy, plenty of ground bone and oyster shells and a clean coop with all this attention, you will find biddy not inclined to eat her eggs.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

The Cause of Colds and a Safe Cure.

A common cause of many colds is the sudden checking of the unconscious perspiration by exposure to a change of temperature. Colds, whether taking the form of Coryza with sneezing, running nose, and perhaps sore throat, or with chilly and feverish symptoms, should never be neglected in the earliest stages, serious illness often results from such neglect.

It is well to get early to bed, to get the body well warmed, and most important to have the bowels move freely. There is no safer or better remedy to use at the beginning of a cold than "L. F." Atwood's medicine. Two or four teaspoonfuls will quickly relieve congested conditions, drive out impurities from the system and ward off further trouble. Always keep a bottle in the house. Any dealer will supply you for thirty-five cents. If you have never used them, write today for a free sample to the L. F. Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.
